

Biom'Up to be included in the Euronext's CAC® Small, CAC® Mid & Small and CAC® All-Tradable indexes

Saint-Priest, France, December 13, 2017 – Biom'Up, specialist in surgical hemostasis, announces today that, as of Monday December 18, 2017, it will be included in three new CAC-family indexes: CAC® Small, CAC® Mid & Small and CAC® All-Tradable.

The inclusion of Biom'Up shares in these indexes follows an analysis of the share by Euronext based on its free float market cap, and illustrates investor interest in Biom'Up, which recently reached a crucial milestone in its FDA approval process with the positive outcome of the inspection of the production facilities on Biom'up's Saint Priest site by of the American Food & Drug Administration (FDA).

The Euronext Paris Indexes' Scientific Committee took this decision during its quarterly review of these indexes on December 7, 2017.

Etienne Binant, Chief Executive Officer of Biom'Up, says: "Biom'Up's inclusion in these CAC® indexes, only two months after our IPO on the Euronext market in Paris, is an excellent event within the framework of our stock market listing. This inclusion marks a new stage in Biom'Up's stock market development, providing it with increased visibility among both French and international investors."
